

Trainertext Visual Phonics

Workbook 3

egg, duck, pick, monkey, umbrella, unicorn

What is TVP?

Trainertext characters are fun, memorable images which represent the sounds (phonemes) of the English language. The characters act as a phonemic guide presented above the letters, so that you can sound out any word, no matter how irregular.

o f f

How does it work?

With TVP there is no need for frustrating, inconsistent phonics rules. When a child is stuck working out a word, the trainertext characters are there to help sound it out correctly. It soon becomes easy to get every word right when reading!

Why does the brain love it?

Each character is so distinctive, that children find it easy to associate the sound to the image and start decoding. By repeatedly decoding words accurately, the child's brain maps the relationships between letters and sounds. Soon, the child is able to decode just from the letters, and the characters are no longer needed.

How to get started

Guide your child through this workbook to get started using TVP and begin the reading journey! You can find our other resources at helpingchildrentoread.com

Meet the Characters

Egg with Little Eggs

I am the Egg with Little Legs. I have a bad habit of farting stinky farts in public! I help in words like: ELF and SAID

elf said

Duck Covered in Muck

I am the Duck Covered in Muck. I love to play ball while I'm sloshing through mud. I help in words like: DO and MAD

do mad

Pig Wearing a Wig

I am the Pig in a Wig. While I wear my fancy wig, I love to do a piggy jig! I help in words like PAT and UP

pat up

Monkey Feeling Funky

I am the Monkey Feeling Funky. Nothing makes me happier than doing a dance with my shades on. Do you think I'm cool? I help in words like: ME and LAMB

me lamb

Umbrella Man with a Suntan

I am the Umbrella Man with a Suntan. I love to lie in the sun like a cool dude... but sometimes I accidentally fall asleep! I help in words like: UP and SON

up

son

Unicorn with a Pink Horn

I am the Unicorn with a Pink Horn. I love baking cupcakes with sprinkles and glitter! If I eat too many, I toot rainbows... I help in words like: FEW and USE

few

use

Trainertext Games

TEACHER NOTES: Now that your learner has been introduced to the Trainertext characters, they can start using them to decode. Read out the following instructions to your learner and help when needed.

Sound Match

Draw a line to show which characters could fill the blank to make a word. HINT: There is more than one!

_ a n

ANSWER: Toad, monkey, and kangaroos, for tan, man, and can.

Picture Match

Circle the word that matches the picture.

t a p

t o p p u g

m u g

m a p m a t

ANSWER: tap, mug, map

Know Your Bs and Ds

Say the name of the images below out loud.
Circle the character that represents the starting sound.

ANSWER: bear, bear, duck, duck, duck

Grab your crayons!

Word List

TEACHER NOTES: Here are some words you can make from phonemes learned so far. You can practice encoding these using the TVP card set, writing the letters on a piece of paper and placing the characters above them:

me

jump

day

meet

cup

came

make

paid

More words for reading practice: bed, cap, map, tap, dot, pop, cut, gut, mud, bug, gum, jug, cape, date, pack, pea, deep, dump, meat, come

TVP Card Set Games

Trainertext visual phonics is a perfect (fun!) way to develop strong phonemic awareness, auditory processing skills, and decoding ability. You can print out a card set for free here - <https://www.helpingchildrentoread.com/resources/trainertext-printables/> or order it on Amazon: <https://www.helpingchildrentoread.com/resources/for-purchase/> . Here are some fun games for your 4-7 year old students using the card set.

- Character Grab
 - Pick a random handful of character cards, and see how many different words you can come up with. Can be played in teams or one-on-one
- Sound Match
 - The teacher/parent writes a simple word down, and places the characters above the letters, with one sound missing. See if your student can pick the correct missing sound. So if you had HAT, you might put the Horse over the H and the Toad over the T, and the child has to find the Ant for the A.
- Flip the Deck
 - Place the card set face down on the table. Set a stopwatch timer going. Flip over a card at a time, and have the student tell you the sound (not name) as fast as possible. Continue through the deck until every card has been flipped. Stop the timer. See if you can beat your time, next time you play! Can also be played in teams.
- Room Race
 - Pick a Trainertext character and ask your learners to race around the room collecting as many objects as they can that have the same starting sound. So if you hold up the Kangaroos, they might collect cups, cards, etc. Great to play in teams. If physically collecting objects feels like chaos, you can also have them call them out to list on the board (see which team can think of the most objects in the room)